BUYER BRAIN

Reason #1

Find Why Customers choose you (Or Don't)

Not knowing exactly how customers make decisions can be baffling.
Traditional Maps skip behavioural heuristics altogether. Today, guessing what happened is not enough.

For lasting change you must get the inside track into behaviours, heuristics and biases. With Behaviour Journey Maps, there is no guessing.

Behaviour Journey Maps can deliver 3.5x more revenue than traditional maps.

Reason #2

They will remember you

80% people chose an alternative simply because they liked the memory of it.1 Customers only remember the parts that heighten their emotions (Peaks) and the final moments (Ends) of an experience.

Behaviour journey maps show you these emotional pit-stops and how you can fix the bad, enhance the good.

Reason #3

Find where it hurts

Friction is that painful barrier in the road that keeps your customers from achieving their goals, in a pleasurable way. Causing frustration and complexity.

Eliminate not just physical but also temporal and cognitive friction, to make journeys easy and customers happy.

64% customers will move to a competing brand due to Friction in experiences.

BUYER BRAIN

Outcome #1

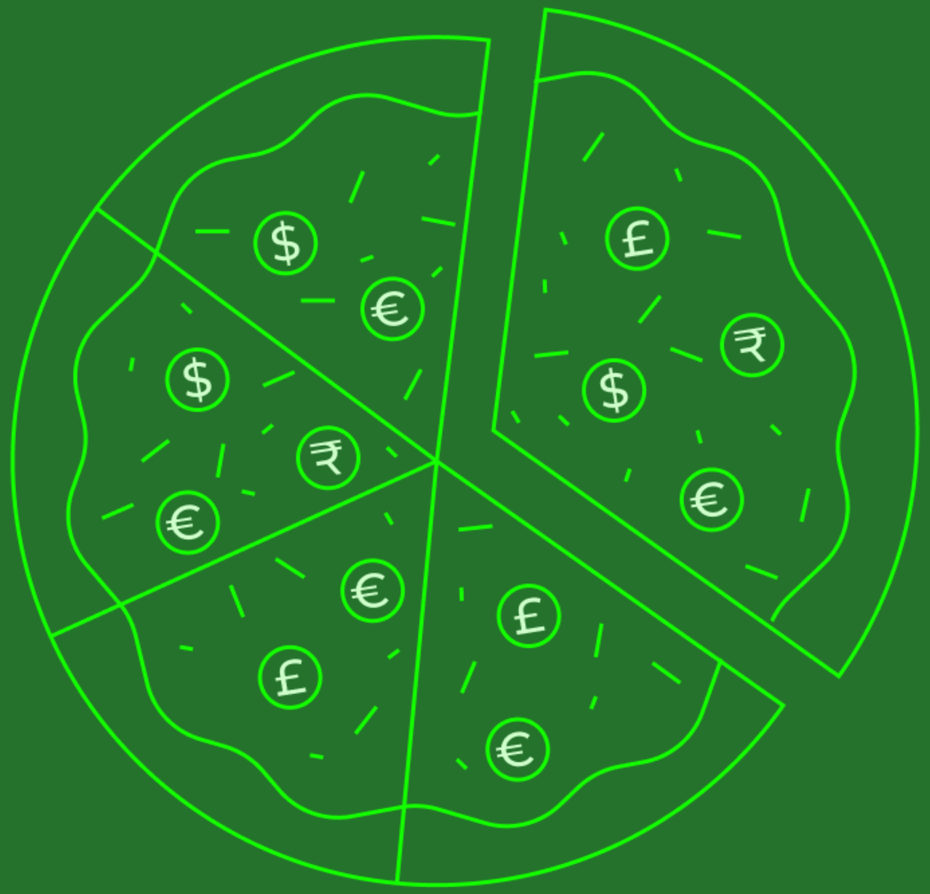

Keep them close

When you drive journeys that rely on emotions, heuristics and biases, you align deeply with your customers' context.

By designing processes with this alignment, your customer retention possibilities increase manifold.

How it used to be

PHASES	Discovery		Application							Payment
			User details	Nominee details	New User Registration
Actions	Looking to purchase health insurance online. Searched on policyBazaar for options	Decided to buy [redacted] after comparing with available options searched for it on Google	Filled provided form and checked the premium	2nd form for nominee details and KYC details provided	Redirected to registration page;	Unable to finish registration process (Tried to register 3-4 times but still it did not happen).	Received mail including quote ID and link for quote retrieval;	Entered quote ID, redirected to new user registration (blank)page;	Submitted form and completed OTP verification. Filled Medical history details to complete application process	Selected appropriate mode of payment to complete the proces
Touchpoints										Bill Desk
Thoughts	Looks like many good products are available. [redacted] seems like a good product.	It comes up on the 6th page while searching ! Wonder why !?! Is it not popular ?	That seemed easy	Oh, one more form! Why two separate forms? They could ask for all the information in one go!	Why are they asking for registration after filling the form? Shouldn't they ask for this in the beginning itself?	They are not even telling why the registration is not happening. Now I will have to look for another option	Ohh..!! There is an email. I wasn't expecting it. And why 4 emails? There should be some SMS or notification pop up that they will be sending an email with a link to retrieve the form. What if I hadn't checked my email!?	Again the same form?? And blank?? What's the point of giving a blank form again! How many times should the user fill same information? Anyway, let me give it a try. Hopefully will get registered this time	The new user registration process takes longer than filling the application form!	Finally purchased the policy. Hopefully everything will be approved and I will get the papers etc without any hassles.
Emotions	Excited	Neutral	Satisfied	Dissatisfied	Confused	Helpless, Disappointed	Dissatisfied	Unhappy,	Dissatisfied	Apprehensive
